

HON®

2026 COLLECTION

SPACES THAT WORK. PARTNERSHIPS THAT LAST.

People perform at their highest level when their environment fuels them.

At HON, we design workspaces with purpose—where smart design, reliable performance, and trusted partnership meet to create meaningful impact. By working closely with our national dealer network, design partners, and customers, we bring intention and accountability to every stage of design, development, and delivery.

2026 is a year of acceleration for HON. With new product introductions across open plan, private office, social spaces, and education—paired with expanded design tools, enhanced capabilities, and the opening of our new Flagship in Fulton Market—we're building more ways to connect, collaborate, and activate the power of the HON brand.

Thank you for being part of the HON community. Whether you're designing, specifying, selling, or experiencing our products firsthand, your insights sharpen our work and strengthen our impact. Together, we're not just furnishing environments—we're empowering people and organizations to achieve their best work, every day.

Sincerely,

Ric Andersen

The Power of Happiness Is in Design

On the surface, the notion of designing for "happiness" sounds trivial. But there are broader trends driving the move towards happiness as a core metric for success in work and life, even replacing economic metrics such as GDP for entire countries. When compared to the narrower focus of engagement as a business metric related to employee retention costs, a broader organizational goal such as happiness provides benefits to both employer and employee. Our research shows specific workplace design features support this broader organizational goal of happiness.

10500 SERIES™

10500 means business. Designed with adaptable layouts, elevated finishes, and hardworking storage, it's the desking solution that delivers efficiency without sacrificing style.
